Each child is unique ...

learns and grows at his/her own rate and has different experiences and interests.

But all children need ...

love, a good self image, guidance, acceptance, opportunity, approval, conversation, respect, patience, tolerance, encouragement, laughter and a sense of belonging.

Parents are partners ...
